

Table of Contents

Introduction	ix
The word Judaism and its significance	x
Jewish religion and nationality	xi
Different names for Jews and Judaism	xii
Part I: The Historical Framework
The Biblical Legacy	1
The Hebrew scriptures and their structure	2
Biblical narrative: covenantal history	5
The Second Temple Era	11
Homeland and diaspora	13
Jews and Samaritans	14
Priestly and scholarly leadership	15
Hellenism	16
The Greek-Jewish synthesis of Alexandria	17
The anti-Jewish decrees of Antiochus Epiphanes and the Hasmonean uprising	18
Sectarian divisions in the wake of the Hasmonean victory	20
The Pharisees, Sadducees and Essenes, and the Qumran library	21
The Jesus movement	27
Judaism of the Talmud and Midrash	31
The historical context of rabbinic Judaism	32
The generations of the Tannaitic era: Yavneh, Usha, Tiberias	34

The era of the Amoraim	37
The genres of the oral Torah: midrash and mishnah	38
Halakhah and aggadah	40
The Talmuds: Palestinian and Babylonian	46
Medieval Judaism	53
The significance of “medieval” in Judaism	54
Differences between medieval and ancient Judaism	55
Medieval Jewish Philosophy	63
The rediscovery of Greek philosophy	64
Jewish Kalam	66
Neoplatonism	67
Aristotelianism	69
Abraham Abulafia’s mystical path	73
Judah Halevi	74
Kabbalah	79
German pietism (Hasidut Ashkenaz)	81
The Bahir	83
The Zohar	86
The Ra’aya Meheimna and Tikkunei Ha-Zohar	88
The Kabbalah of Rabbi Isaac Luria	90
Shabbetai Zevi	91
Hasidism	93
The Modern Era	101

Emancipation	103
The Jewish Enlightenment	104
Moses Mendelssohn (1729-86): Pioneer of Jewish Enlightenment	105
Religious Reform in Europe	108
Zacharias Frankel and Positive-Historical Judaism	112
Orthodoxy and Neo-Orthodoxy	113
Judaism in the New World	117
Conservative Judaism in America	119
American “Centrist” Orthodoxy	121
Developments among Sephardic Jews	123
Havurat Shalom and Jewish Renewal	123
Part II: Jewish Beliefs and Values
Devotion to One God	130
The God of the Hebrew Bible	131
Monotheism and idolatry	133
Philo’s Logos theology	134
Divine unity in medieval Jewish philosophy	134
The God of the Kabbalah	137
Heathens and heretics	140
God and the World	147
Nature	148
Science and creation	149
Healing and the sanctity of life	150

Kabbalistic views of creation	152
Miracles	153
Israel's Sacred History	157
Judaism and history	158
Biblical visions of redemption	159
Jerusalem the holy city	161
David and the ideal of monarchy	162
Apocalypse	164
Rationalist eschatologies	165
Redemption according to the Kabbalah	166
Modern attitudes	167
Homeland and exile	167
Life After Death	176
The biblical background	177
Resurrection and reincarnation	177
Medieval and modern views	179
The Mystic Path	182
Holiness and the encounter with God	183
The work of the chariot	183
Heikhalot literature	184
The mysticism of the Hasidei Ashkenaz	185
Kabbalah and mysticism	185
Wisdom and Scholarship	191

The centrality of Torah study as a religious value	193
Biblical scholarship	194
Ancient Jewish exegesis	194
Biblical study in the rabbinic era: midrash	197
Medieval biblical studies: The rise of literal exegesis	198
The Torah and commandments in Jewish thought	204
Biblical studies in the modern era	205
Talmudic scholarship: commentaries	207
Critical commentaries to the Talmud	210
Codes of Talmudic Law	212
Responsa literature	216
Justice and Morality	221
Sin, repentance and free will	222
Human justice	223
Divine justice, theodicy and Holocaust theology	225
War and peace	228
Part III: Jewish Observances and Institutions
Jewish Education	234
Elementary education	235
Advanced studies: the yeshivah	235
Modern developments	237
Places of Worship: Temple and Synagogue	240
Biblical worship: Temple and priesthood	241

The origins of the synagogue	243
Women in the synagogue	245
Aspects of communal prayer	245
Piyyut	246
The synagogue in modern times	248
The modern rabbi	249
Judaism and Daily Life	252
Religion in the daily lives of Jews	254
Jewish Women	255
Daily prayer	261
The Shema‘	263
The Tefillah (“Eighteen Blessings”)	263
Philosophical attitudes to prayer	264
Hasidic Prayer	265
Dietary laws	265
The significance and purpose of the Jewish dietary laws	265
Definitions of permissible and forbidden species	266
Ritual slaughter [shehitah]	267
Separation of milk and meat	267
Tithing	268
Modern developments in the Jewish dietary laws	268
The Sacred Calendar	274
The structure of the Jewish calendar	275
The Sabbath (Shabbat)	277

The three pilgrimage festivals	278
The penitential season	283
Minor holidays	286
Modern days of commemoration	288
Fast days	289
Life Cycle Observances	293
Jewish life cycle events and rites of passage	294
Birth: Initiation into the covenant of Abraham	294
Redemption of the firstborn	296
Adulthood: bar mitzvah / bat mitzvah	296
Marriage, wedding and family	297
Betrothal and wedding	298
Divorce	299
Death and Mourning	299
Appendix I	305
Appendix II	308
Glossary	311